HOSPITAL BOARD STILL LACKS ONE

No Successor Elected to Late John McGuire

Illinois Central Shop Employees Demand Larger Representation For Themselves.

ENGINEERS CLAIM POSITION

Although considered one of the important matters calling for immediate action, no successor to Engineer John McGuire was elected yesterday by the board of directors of the Illinois Central railroad hospital; and an investigation resulted in discovering friction among employees of the Illinois Central as to who shall be elected.

John McGuire was the representative from the engineers' department. Several years ago employees of the shops, contending that they did more than was recognized toward supporting the hospital, asked for more representation. The board promised that as soon as any member died or was from any cause removed, another representative from the shops would be given the place. When the death of Engineer McGuire was announced, shopmen met a short time later and selected Mr. J. L. Cockrell, a car repairer, as their candidate. He won over a machinist in the committee vote. Engineers do not like the idea of having no representation direct from their brotherhood, and it is said are objecting to the proposed plan. For this reason no election was held by the board yesterday. The master mechanic here has been acting for the shops.

Shot Cats That Killed Chickens. Police Judge D. A. Cross dismissed Houston Wilkerson, of Harrison street near Twelfth street, on the charge of shooting cats. The young man raises poultry and has a fine lot of chickens. Neighbors own cats, and during the past several days they have been visiting the Wilkerson yard and stealing his choice fowls. Wilkerson armed himself with a gun and when a cat showed itself in his yard he promptly filled its body full of lead.

Gov. Little Worse. Little Rock, Ark., June 11.—Governor Little was threatened with a relapse and heart failure. Heart stimulants were administered freely today.

Mrs. Rogers Cuts Her Hand. Mrs. Ous Rogers, wife of the popular deputy sheriff, is suffering from a badly cut hand. She attempted to remove a piece of tin can from a rubber tire. It caught in the tire while she was driving. Dr. J. D. Robertson dressed the wound.

Won Golf Cup. R. G. Morrow, manager of the Memphis Furniture company, of Memphis, and a son of Mrs. Emily Morrow, of this city, won the cup in a golf meet at Atlanta, Ga., this week.

FATHER GETS SON AWAY FROM MOTHER

Fulton, Ky., June 11. (Special).—Trouble in the family of A. L. Cowell, 2415 Broadway, Paducah, which culminated in Mrs. Cowell with her 3-year-old son Edmund, coming to this city to reside with Mrs. Cowell's father, Mr. H. Hewitt, took a sensational turn today, when Mr. Cowell came to Fulton and took the boy away with him. Mrs. Cowell sent the lad to the postoffice this morning. His father met him there and both have disappeared.

Large Timber Deal. Hickman, Ky., June 11.—Mengel Box company of Hickman, branch of the Mengel company of Louisville, bought of J. B. Gretzweiler, near Charleston, Mo., all of the timber on 1,200 acres of land for $10,000. They have five years in which to remove the timber.

CATLETTSBURG LOSES BY STORM

Catlettsburg, Ky., June 11.—A storm last night wrought untold havoc here. Scenes about town are indescribable. Great trees, roofs of houses and other debris are scattered along streets. The court house is wrecked. The loss will be five times that of the two Ohio river floods last spring.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Generally fair and warmer tonight and Wednesday. Highest temperature yesterday, 93; lowest today, 60.

PRESIDENT BACK.

Washington, June 11.—President Roosevelt and party from the Jamestown exposition, arrived at the Washington navy yards this morning.

JAPS AND GREASERS.

San Diego, Calif., June 11.—According to appeals from residents of the ranching country, trouble between the Indian and Mexican and Jap laborers is being feared. Practically all work formerly was done by Indians and Mexicans. When the Japanese came across the border they cut prices. Several fights have occurred.

BIBLE COURAGE.

Boise, Idaho, June 11.—Harry Orchard, publicly declared he has "got religion" and says he has been a close student of the Bible since his imprisonment, and within the pages of the book he found courage to make confession and not by the coaching of Detective McParland, as alleged by Haywood's attorneys.

LICKING IS UP.

Farmers, Ky., June 11.—A terrible hail and electrical storm visited this section last night doing great damage. The Licking river and all its tributaries are rising rapidly and causing alarm.

FATAL QUARREL.

Chicout, O., June 11.—Edward Baumgartner, a cigar-maker, shot and killed his wife this morning and then shot himself in the head. He never regained consciousness and died an hour later. The couple quarreled this morning and the shooting followed.

FATAL LOVE.

Detroit, Mich., June 11.—Clifford Kirkpatrick, 21 years old, of Mount Vernon, Ohio, shot and killed himself here today. Several days ago, Mrs. David Walters, with whom Kirkpatrick was infatuated, and who followed him here from Ohio, was stabbed to death by her husband, who was jealous of Kirkpatrick. Walters cut his own throat but is still alive. Kirkpatrick left a note saying: "I could not live without my sweetheart."

RUINOUS HAINS.

San Francisco, June 11.—Heavy rains most unusual at this season, in the central part of the state, have been falling many hours and will cause great damage to the already light crop of cherries. Wheat may be benefited in some sections, but barley will suffer.

STANDARD AT RAIL.

Flint, O., June 11.—The Standard Oil company again is brought to the bar here on one of seven indictments recently brought for alleged violation of the anti-trust law. A jury will be secured tomorrow. As testimony is chiefly documentary, probably there will be little sensation in the trial.

STRIKE IMMINENT.

Detroit, June 11.—By unanimous vote today the street railway employees union rejected the compromise offer of the company and voted to give the company 48 hours to grant a demand for 25 cents an hour or submit to a strike. It is likely the company will demand an arbitration, which under their agreement the men will be forced to permit.

TO MUCH BUSINESS.

New York, June 11.—Too much prosperity is given as the cause of the bankruptcy of Milliken Bros', structural steel manufacturers. The company had much work but the money market prevented it from securing working capital. Three receivers were appointed today to conduct the establishment.

WEEDS AND WATER CAUSE SICKNESS

Nightly Odors That Carry Disease on Wings of Breeze

Sewers Are of No Benefit If People Are Not Compelled to Make Connections.

BOARD OF HEALTH'S HINTS

"Miasmatic odors arising after nightfall, are the most prolific source of summer sickness," a physician stated this morning. "These odors come from rank weeds, from stagnant water and from decaying refuse. In the summer our bedroom windows are open and the atmosphere laden with these malarial odors floats in unhindered. No other result than stomach trouble, chills and malarial fevers with the listlessness that makes work a drudge, could be expected.

"Drive out Jefferson street just beyond Fountain avenue, or out Caldwell street across the hill towards the Union passenger station," a member of the board of health suggested, "and you will see that the agitation of the board toward draining these stagnant places, is well considered. But our citizens need not pride themselves on being secure from unsanitary odors, who live in the heart of the sewerage district. I can carry you through alleys in the best residence districts that have outgrown from which the most dangerous odors arise. Our sewerage system is a farce as long as we do not compel the citizens to connect.

"Take a trip to the southern part of the city where the slaughter houses, the distilleries produce unsanitary conditions, and ask whether good health will be enjoyed by the citizens surrounding. Pure water and the sewerage system, as far as it is employed, with the street improvements, have done much for the city, but they can help only so far as they are used.

"The average man will go on paying large doctors' bills when, if a concerted effort were made to remedy the bad conditions, on a large scale, his expenses in this line would decrease greatly. Apparently it is to the doctor's interest to have extensive sickness, but no real love of his profession would lead to endorse sanitary precautions."

STIONS TO POST THOUGH HIS PALMS ARE BURNED.

In an effort to stop a runaway elevator, Will V. Green, of the H. A. Potter Supply company, 117 South First street, had the skin burned off the palm of his left hand yesterday afternoon. The elevator failed to respond to the rope brake and he went down with it from the second floor to the cellar where it was stopped by the ground. The rope sliding through his hand wore the skin off making an exceedingly painful wound. A companion on the elevator jumped off as it passed the first floor.

He was a Methodist preacher and often assisted at the Union Rescue mission in Paducah. He son, the Rev. Robert Cummins, once filled the pulpit of the Mechanicsburg Methodist Episcopal church.

Dr. Dillon was for years resident physician in the Illinois Central railroad hospital, and is well known in Paducah. He is now one of the foremost physicians of New Orleans.

Names of Applicants For School Positions Withheld

Secretary Byrd, of the school board, and members of the committee on examinations and course of study, are engaged in charging each other with being responsible for violation of the relettered policy of this board—that of electing teachers in open session. It was originally stated that the committee would hold no caucus to consider applicants, and later Secretary Byrd gave out an interview, in which he declared the names of all the applicants would be reported in open meeting, by the committee and recommended, whether they had been examined or not, and that the board would then in open session choose the teachers.

COMMENCEMENT HELD OUT DOORS

Commencement exercises of St. Mary's academy will be held in the yard this year. Today workmen began constructing the stage in the boys' auditorium, but on account of the crowds and warm weather it was thought more pleasant to have them in the open air. The exercises will be held Wednesday afternoon, June 19, and all the pupils will participate, besides the three graduates: Misses M. Olive Clark, Nellie Yopp and Eudora Farley.

Murray, who at one time was superintendent of the Paducah marine ways, is now connected with the plant of the Patton-Tully Transportation company of Memphis, and is doing a great deal of repair and construction work. In a letter to home he says the plant employs 75 men and that a great many of them are former Paducah ship carpenters and caulkers. The company builds and docks all kinds of water craft.

Sights attended him.

JAPS' ADVANTAGE IN EASTERN SEAS

Clearly Shown by Comparison of Our Navies

American Ships Are Congregated at Norfolk, While Japan's Are in Pacific Waters.

COULD TAKE THE PHILIPPINES.

Washington, D. C., June 11.—Officially it is admitted the Japanese question was taken up at today's cabinet meeting. Secretary Root presented the state department view of recent developments. There was no serious discussion of the disposition of our naval forces.

Our Naval Forces.

Washington, D. C., June 11.—Washington officials in discussing the possibility of estrangement between the United States and Japan are figuring on the comparative naval strength of the two nations among nations of the world. The United States ranks third in naval strength and Japan fifth. Nearly all Japan's vessels are in home water. The flower of the American navy is now at Hampton Roads. Should friendly relations cease, the Philippines and possibly Hawaii would be practically at the mercy of the mikado's navy.

Change of Policy.

Official Washington positively refuses to become unduly excited at the bellicose emanations from Tokyo, although there may be detected a sinister note in the reputed utterances of Viscount Tanaka, leader of the opposition in the house of peers. The noteworthy fact is, however, that for the first time a feeling of irritation against the Japanese government is observed. The state department declares that the administration is growing weary of the persistent efforts of the Japanese government to magnify unimportant incidents into international episodes.

A broad hint to this effect may be delivered soon to the Japanese government through the state department, where it is felt that the time has arrived to deal with the question with more frankness and vigor than have been observed in the past.

It is safe to predict a change of policy in dealing with the little Japs. This opinion is predicated upon the fact that the story went out from Washington last night detailing the attitude of the war crowd in Japan toward the United States, growing out of recent happenings in San Francisco, was authorized by Secretary of State Root, who for months has kept this important information locked in his official breast. The warranted inference is that Mr. Root, the sagacious statesman that he is, would not have given publicity to facts so vital that for the reason that the administration is on the verge of an entirely new Japanese policy. Briefly stated, Japan has become offensively cockish and should be "called down," and if Uncle Sam did not intend to deliver the rebuke Secretary Root never in the world would have authorized the statements, which issued from the state department last night. This little warning to the apparently bellicose element in the mikado's kingdom is to be hinted rather than revealed in the harsher terms of an ultimatum, but nevertheless the attitude of the United States is to be made unmistakable.

Sights attended him.

S.S.S. CURES BLOOD POISON

The first symptom of Contagious Blood Poison is usually a little sore or ulcer which does not always excite suspicion because of its insignificance; but as the poison becomes more firmly rooted in the blood, the mouth and throat ulcerate, copper-colored spots appear, a rash breaks out on the body, the hair begins to come out, glands in the neck and groins swell, and often ulcerating sores form on the limbs, hands or face. But this is not all: if the poison is allowed to remain it works down and attacks the bones, causing necrosis or decay, and makes a complete physical wreck of the sufferer. It will not do to tamper with a disease so powerful as Contagious Blood Poison, for every day the virus remains in the blood the trouble is progressing toward a more dangerous stage, and may in the end get beyond the reach of any treatment. There is but one certain, reliable cure for Contagious Blood Poison, and that is S. S. S., the greatest of all blood purifiers. This remedy attacks the disease in the right way by going down into the blood and forcing out every particle of the poison. It makes the blood pure and rich, strengthens the different parts of the body, tones up the system and cures this humiliating and destructive disorder permanently. The improvement commences as soon as the patient gets under the influence of S. S. S. and continues until every vestige of the poison is driven from the blood, and the sufferer completely restored to health. S. S. S. is not an experiment, it is a success and has cured thousands of cases of Contagious Blood Poison in every stage, and being entirely free from minerals, is as safe as well as certain treatment. If you are suffering with this debasing disease get the poison out of your blood with S. S. S. before it does further damage. Special home treatment book on the disease and medical advice sent free to all who write.

EXTEND POWERS OF HAGUE COURT

Instructions to Delegates From This Country

International Arbitration Tribunal Should Handle More Cases, Says Roosevelt.

INDUCED PEACE CONFERENCE

Washington, June 11.—On the eve of the second Hague conference, which assembles next Saturday, the part played by America in bringing about the great international gathering and the nature of instructions under which our delegates are to participate in the congress become matters of great interest.

For the fact is that America really caused the invitation to the second Hague conference to be extended to the world, though the document was actually issued later by the Russian government.

The germ of the idea was found in the meeting of the Interparliamentary Union at St. Louis two years ago. The resolutions there adopted, all urging an extension of the principles of settling international disputes by arbitration, were laid before President Roosevelt, who prepared a note addressed to our principal representatives abroad, directing them to sound the government to which they were accredited as to the desirability of reconvening the international conference at The Hague.

The first order of importance, according to the American view, is the proposal that improvements be made in the provisions of the existing convention relative to a peaceful settlement of international disputes as regards the court of arbitration and the international commission of inquiry.

Instructions of the American delegates are to do everything in their power to influence the conference to enlarge the powers of the permanent Hague tribunal in dealing with arbitration cases; above all, the effort is to be made to bring more business before the tribunal, to induce nations to have more frequent recourse to this tribunal for the settlement of their disputes.

SUN AND SNOW

Sometimes Help the Hair to Go.

In any changeable climate the hair is apt to become brittle and to break off stubbly here and there. This makes a hair-dressing almost a necessity, especially to ladies. In using a hair dressing why not get the best, one that combines with it the efficiency in killing the dandruff germ, the germ that eats the hair off at the roots, causing what is called falling hair, and in time baldness. Now, bro's "Herpicide" is that kind of a hair dressing. You have no idea how delightful your scalp will feel and how stylish your hair will appear, after an application or two of Herpicide. It is certainly a wonderful innovation as a scalp antiseptic and hair-dressing. Sold by leading druggists. Two sizes, 50c and $1. Send 10c in stamps for sample to the Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

LIKE FINDING MONEY.

Will J. Gilbert, the popular druggist, is making an offer that is just like finding money for he is selling a regular 50-cent bottle of Dr. Howard's celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia at half price. In addition to this large discount he agrees to return the money to any person whom the specific does not cure.

It is only recently, through the solicitation of druggist Will J. Gilbert that this medicine could be bought for less than fifty cents, he urged the proprietors to allow him to sell it at this reduced price for a little while, agreeing to sell a certain amount. The result has justified his good judgment, for the sales have been something remarkable.

Anyone who suffers with headache, dyspepsia, dizziness, sour stomach, sneezes before the eyes, or any liver trouble, should take advantage of this opportunity, for Dr. Howard's specific will cure all these troubles. But if by any chance it should not, Will J. Gilbert will return your money.

IMPROVEMENTS

PAVEMENT AND CONCRETE WALL FOR I. C. HOSPITAL.

Superintendent Egan Greatly Admires Artistic Efforts of Dr. Murrell.

Improvements adding much to the beauty of the Illinois Central railroad hospital will be authorized at the next meeting of the hospital board. Little was done except the discussion of conditions in general at yesterday's meeting, but the improvements were decided on.

"We will build a full width concrete pavement in front of the hospital on the Broadway side," said Superintendent Egan. "We will also build a concrete wall about the grounds on the Broadway and Jefferson street sides, and will have Dr. Murrell's beautiful fountain in operation by July 4. Dr. Murrell's fountain is one of the prettiest pieces of designing and execution by an amateur I ever saw. From the castle, which forms the peak of the fountain, he has built a sluice, and after encircling the fountain several times, the water strikes a small mill with water wheel. Flowers will be planted all over the fountain. We greatly admire the work."

The painting of the hospital building was accepted, and a report of the conditions received. Comparatively little illness and few accidents were reported for the year so far.

MINE OPERATORS IN COUNTERPLOT

Theory of Defense in Moyer-Haywood Case

Lead Orchard Through Minute Cross-Examination in Details of the Murders.

SAY HE IMAGINES SOMEWHAT.

Boise, Idaho, June 11.—Into the further cross-examination of Harry Orchard the counsel for Haywood repeatedly threw suggestions of a great counter conspiracy, formulated and carried out by the enemies of the Western Federation of Miners and indicated a determination to construct their line of defense on that field.

They carried Orchard by slow steps and through minutest details from dynamiting of independence station down to the attempt on the life of Fred Bradley and his family, and in addition to a series of particular attacks on the credibility of the witness and the general probability of his stories and preparing the way for their own testimony in rebuttal, they sought to show Orchard has a mania for boasting of the commission of crimes non-existent, except in his own mind, and that he is testifying under the control and suggestion of Detective McPherson.

Blame Owners for Crime.

They began today by making it clear that as far as Orchard knew of his own knowledge Haywood, Moyer and Pettibone had nothing to do with the inspiration, planning and execution of the Vindicator explosion, and that Haywood and Moyer had nothing to do with planning the murder of Detective Gregory.

Passing then to dynamiting of the independence station, the first crime with which the testimony of Orchard directly connects Haywood, Moyer and Pettibone, they endeavored to show that Orchard, in springing the mine, had purposely sought to spare the oncoming train and the non-union men who were expected on the train, and that the whole plot was engineered by agents of the mine owners and railway managers, who wanted a comparatively harmless "outrage" to injure the union miners who were on a strike.

Haywood and Mayberry Friends.

Leaving the independence station crime which was followed by the flight of Orchard into Wyoming and then by his unexpected return to Denver, the counsel for the defense sought to discredit the story that Haywood directed Orchard to kill Andy Mayberry by showing that Haywood and Mayberry are old and intimate friends. Getting down to the Bradley crime they devoted themselves largely to the revolting story of Orchard's attempt to poison the entire Bradley household including the infant child, which he had seen in the baby carriage, and Mrs. Crow Cook with whom he had made friends and whom he had accompanied to the theater.

Into stronger relief than had been the direct examination they threw the utter depravity of witness and gave the watching crowd the one deep noted thrill of an otherwise weary day.

See Mine Owners Hand Again.

Orchard swore that while in San Francisco he repeatedly received money from Pettibone who used the name of "Pat Bone" in transmitting it, and in making this clearer today the defense gave evidence of a plan to show this money was sent under Pettibone's name thinly disguised by persons plotting against the leaders of the Western Federation of Miners.

SPLITTING NEWSPAPER.

Splitting an ordinary newspaper in two parts seems an impossible feat, yet it is a common occurrence at the Illinois Central shops in the pattern department. Patterns are made up generally of pine wood glued together, it being impossible to get a solid piece large enough for some work. Often the pattern when finished has to be split. To insure a perfect split the wood is glued with the strongest glue but a piece of ordinary newspaper is placed between the two pieces of wood. When finished the pattern is split by means of a sharp chisel. It splits the paper in half, and is the only way that such work can be performed.

TIRED AND SICK YET MUST WORK

"Man may work from sun to sun but woman's work is never done." In order to keep the home neat and pretty, the children well dressed and tidy, women overdo and often suffer in silence, drifting along from bad to worse, knowing well that they ought to have help to overcome the pains and aches which daily make life a burden.

It is to these women that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, comes as a blessing. When the spirals are depressed, the head and back aches, there are dragging down pains, nervousness, sleeplessness, and reluctance to go anywhere, these are only symptoms which unless heeded, are soon followed by the worst forms of Female Complaints.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

keeps the female organism in a strong and healthy condition. It cures inflammation, ulceration, displacements, and organic troubles. In preparing for child-birth and to carry women safely through the Change of Life it is most efficient.

Mrs. Augustus Lyon, of East Earl, Pa., writes:—Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—For a long time I suffered from female troubles and had all kinds of aches and pains in the lower part of back and sides. I could not sleep and had no appetite. Since taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and following the advice which you gave me I feel like a new woman and I cannot praise your medicine too highly."

Mrs. Pinkham's Invitation to Women

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to write Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Out of her vast volume of experience she probably has the very knowledge that will help your case. Her advice is free and always helpful.

MRS. AUG. LYON

One on Ade.

A young man was sitting in a barber shop looking at a magazine when an old farmer, with little knowledge or appreciation of literary people, stepped up behind his chair and looked over his shoulder.

"Who's them?" he inquired, pointing to a group of portraits.

"Well-known authors and playwrights," was the reply.

"Humph!" ejaculated the farmer, contentiously. "Jist writin' fellows, eh?" Then he caught sight of George Ade's long, solemn face, and his eye lighted up. "That's the one I like," he said, with decision, putting his finger on Mr. Ade's mournful countenance.

"Oh, yes, nearly everyone likes George Ade," agreed the young man.

"His humorous writings are—"

"Don't know nothin' 'bout his writin', but I like his face."

"Why so?"—curiously.

"'Cause he's the only feller that looks like he was sorry for what he'd done."—Lippincott's.

Our Opportunities.

In every avenue of life great opportunities are constantly confronting us. Who are ready for them? Who will fill the positions? It is the prepared men, those who are equal to the places, who generally get them.—Success Magazine.

Daily Thought.

There is no use in throwing down your hand until you are certain what the other fellow holds.

THE JAPS HAVE CAUGHT IT.

The Japs have got the "Jingoes." That's a horrid national disease of Anglo-Saxon origin. The Japs caught it from us. Most heathen nations have picked up the virus of their civilized neighbors. We began to think Japan would manifest a superiority to the seductive influences of all our bad habits. The little men of Japan nibble gluttony and intemperance, refuse to yield to the opium pipe, and are intensely earnest in their desire to learn our ways. It was this desire and their quickness of apprehension, we fear, that laid them liable to this western malady. The Japs have gone in for politics, and, adopting our methods to the oriental temperament, have chosen as their field of politics the world instead of the ward; and behold, two hemispheres are sitting up nights with the patient, applying cooling lotions to his fevered temples.

The "onts," and we would call them, or as they term themselves, Progressive party, are trying to out the military, and the San Francisco trouble and the exclusion treaty are taken as the most likely issues with which to go before a populace hot with national pride and fresh from signal triumphs in war. They accuse the military of truckling to the United States and humiliating the nation by agreeing to the coele exclusion treaty and by not demanding satisfaction for the treatment of Japanese subjects in San Francisco.

So much for the situation as it merely reflects the state of internal politics in Japan. It is an object lesson to us. We now know how England must have looked on the Jingo ravings of our own statesmen and mobsters of public opinion on more than one occasion, and how the Japs felt more recently.

But as incident to the general situation, France, recently made party to a treaty with Japan, has tendered her good offices to the United States. Great nations do not thus interfere in the relations of two other nations unless invited tacitly, or otherwise, and unless a serious condition is thought to exist.

There may be some connection between this offer and the Japanese insistence on reparation for anti-Japanese demonstrations in San Francisco. Of course, the idea is preposterous. Anti-American demonstrations have been made in Paris and the incidents ignored. Recently British subjects trampled on the American flag in Canada and the Canadian government dealt with them just as with any other sort of offenders. America can not apologize to Japan every time a Yankee pulls a Jap's nose.

But by this popular insistence magnifying the grievance, and the apparently patient attitude assumed by the Japanese government, giving her in the eyes of the world the position of the aggrieved party, the wily orientals may win moral support. The effect of this may be heightened by France's offer of good offices, and our rejection. England's hands are tied, our ships are in the Atlantic and our Pacific possessions are unprotected.

Of course, looking on the bright side of the situation, Kuroki's visit and welcome by press, public and government have showed that astute warrior that the feeling toward the Japs is of the kindest, and that the San Francisco trouble is local and involving only the labor situation. He probably had a heart to heart talk with somebody close to the administration, of which nothing has been said.

We are confident the administration keeps more closely in touch with the situation than do the rest of us, and that there will be no delay in preparation; but it is well for us to keep well in mind the fact that our pregnable side is to the Pacific and our most imminent danger is there.

We will not be disturbed by the Japs home politics; but it takes ships to fight on the ocean, and the oriental mind is impressed with numbers, the glint of steel and the flash of uniforms.

Steve Adams says that Harry Orchard is a "nature fakir."

The alleys are now before the board of health.

UNFAITHFUL STEWARDS.

Either a school trustee spoke falsely when he said Superintendent Lieb would not receive his salary for September, or a local newspaper spoke falsely when it quoted him as saying that. We know that both the newspaper and trustee, members of the old board, spoke falsely when they said the contract, as originally ordered by the board for Superintendent Lieb was to terminate August 1, because that very newspaper and the others in Paducah all reported the proceedings of the meeting alike, and said the contract would terminate September 1.

However this may be the school board last night, without receiving the slightest encouragement from Superintendent Lieb, granted him leave of absence to September 1 with full pay. During the month of August also the board will pay Superintendent-elect Carnagey the same salary. Now, this school board is spending the people's money, not their own. In fact, taxpayers are in a mighty small minority on the board. Already the board has contracted indebtedness several thousand dollars in excess of assets, without the slightest indication of ever making up the amount, and, we may say, without evincing a very keen appreciation of the situation.

There are members of the board filling unexpired terms of resigned trustees, who have never been seated except in caucuses; there are members of the board who have sold material to the board; there is a trustee voting, to whom a school contract was awarded, and there is a trustee drawing a salary from the board. This board, we believe, could be enjoined by a taxpayer from contracting debts in excess of assets, and we pointed out to the trustees some months since, that they had better be regular in their proceedings, for we are of the opinion that a test in court would avoid most of the board's actions for lack of qualifications on the part of the members.

This is all of a piece with paying two salaries for superintendent. If the trustees were honest in the declaration that they did not believe Superintendent Lieb's contract extended to September 1, they should have the courage of their convictions. By paying the salary they apparently admit that Superintendent Lieb was right, and that their action was for the purpose of defaming an honorable man. Most certainly, in view of the deplorable financial condition into which they have plunged the school affairs since January, the board has no right to pay two superintendents just to make easy their own way out of an embarrassing predicament.

There was no course open to Superintendent Lieb other than to demand his salary for August. The amount may be a little thing, but the vindication is important. If standing on his rights and defying the board to go to law over the contract, he has shown that he was not afraid to risk his contention and to test his assertion, and by the puerile trick of granting a leave of absence all summer long to the superintendent and paying two men for a whole month, the school trustees have shown themselves to be ridiculous humbugs, as well as unfaithful stewards of the people's money.

We don't know what ulterior motive is behind the suggestion that McCracken county needs a new court house; but we believe a poll of the bar would indicate otherwise. The building is substantial and commodious, and good for many, many years to come.

New York press dispatches convey the information that Harry K. Thaw is a model prisoner. Harry at last has found his place in the world.

It is said that Mrs. Charles Ayers, the lieutenant colonel's wife, who started the fuss because West Point cadets were not allowed to wrap their sweethearts in their coats, will sue Secretary Taft, on account of a tart official letter. Does Mrs. Ayers intend to go on the stage?

Stuyvesant Fish says that until the rate control of the Interstate commerce commission is restricted, there will be no more railroad extensions. We should like to know whether that is a prophecy or a threat?

Parliam walters went on a strike because hotel proprietors refused to meet their demands for wages. We had supposed walters paid the proprietors for the tip concession in their dining rooms.

RECEIVER APPOINTED FOR WATERS-PIERCE CO.

Austin, Tex., June 11.—After hearing the arguments of the defense upon the application of the state for the appointment of a receiver for the Waters-Pierce Oil company in Texas, and declining to listen to the arguments of the state, Judge Brooks announced that he would grant the request and appoint a receiver, not because it was necessary to insure the collection of the penalties, according to the verdict brought in by the jury, but because it was evident that the defendant proposed to continue to conduct its business pending the determination of the appeal in the manner and by the same means as had been found by the jury to be in violation of the laws of the state of Texas.

CLERK SMEDLEY COULDN'T COMPLY WITH REQUEST

Duties of public officers are manifold, and often troublesome. Requests are made and filed; but occasionally a duty too arduous is imposed. One of this class reached the office of County Clerk Hiram Smedley this morning from Bardwell. It read:

"Will you be so kind as to write me who the deeds of different denominations church property is deeded to, and oblige one desiring information."

As the information would entail the loss of a day or two, and a search through musty records of years back, the clerk could not be obliging in this instance.

LEXINGTON HORSE WINNER OF THE LATONIA DERBY.

Cincinnati, June 11.—Leading from start to finish and under the whip the most of the journey, The Abbott, the big brown colt by The Triar Goody Good, owned by M. J. Young, of Lexington, Ky., captured the Latonia derby, worth $4,410, in easy fashion. Ridden by Jockey J. Lee in a faultless manner, and judging the pace throughout, the little colored boy did not have any trouble in letting his mount show the way.

KANSAS CALLS HARVESTERS.

Employment Bureau Wants 10,578 Men and 3,100 Teams.

Topeka, Kan., June 11.—Following close on the crop report of F. D. Coburn, secretary of the board of agriculture, comes the call for harvest hands from T. B. Gerow, director of the state free employment bureau. The call is for 10,578 men and 3,100 teams.

Graves County rights.

Mayfield, Ky., June 11.—Two fights in Graves county resulted in as many fatalities. At the Odd Fellows' celebration at Dublin, Ernie Price was stabbed three times by Pete Burgess. Several men participated in the difficulty. Burgess escaped.

Sam Scholes and Ollie Lane, who held a grudge against each other, met on a bridge Sunday afternoon and clashed. Lane was badly cut, and is in a serious condition. Scholes has not been apprehended.

GOOD WRESTLING MATCH AT THE EAGLES' HALL.

Arrangements have been made for a professional wrestling match to take place in Paducah at the Eagles' Hall Wednesday, June 12. The contestants will be Herman Santello, the European champion and Chicago Sandow world 155 pound champion.

G. W. Fawcett, promoter of this match, is in the city, also Mr. Santello, who is a veritable giant, having an arm that is slightly larger than his neck, and he has a neck like a bull. Froie reports the Chicago Sandow is a wonder, and sport such as has never before been witnessed in the city is promised.

The Eagle Hall is an ideal place for these matches, and a large attendance is assured.

Pipers and Lords.

Doubtless Prince Pushimi, of Japan, made the acquaintance of highland pipers in the course of his visit to Scotland. It is recalled that Lord John Russell, when on a visit to Queen Victoria at Balmoral, asked Her Majesty's own piper to have some one play in his presence.

"What kind of piper do you want?" asked the man.

"Just such another as yourself," said the English statesman.

Drawing himself up, the musician said grandly: "There's plenty of lords like yourself, but very few pipers like me."

"Read not to contradict and confute, nor to believe and take for granted, nor to find talk and discourse, but to weigh and consider."

If you have been reading these little chats on Osteopathy, I trust you have weighed and considered them. If you are among the ailing you should have investigated.

I have had just any number of Paducah people you know to investigate Osteopathy. Investigate by taking the treatment, and I should like to refer you to any one of them for testimony of what it has done for them. I have very successfully treated chronic cases of rheumatism, asthma, eczema, liver and bowel and stomach troubles, nervousness, lumbago, neuralgia and headaches and general debility. In all these ailments the Osteopathic is the most rational treatment known to science today.

There is nothing occult about the treatment. It is merely a drugless system of medicine seeking in the human body, structural normality of its parts upon which their vitality and proper functioning depend. It does this by scientific manipulation, recognizing and using diet, air, water and exercise and other hygienic measures.

Its results are quick and sure and never attended by the illness that usually accompanies the use of drugs. I should like to talk to you at any time about your illness. If you are ill, my office hours are from 9 to 12 and 1:30 to 5 p. m. Phone 1407, office 516 Broadway, upstairs, Dr. G. B. Froage.

DEATH OF JULIA MAGRUDER.

Famous as Novelist and Writer of Stories for the Children.

Richmond, Va., June 11.—Miss Julia Magruder, the novelist, died here today after a protracted illness. She was 51 years old. She was a native of Charlottesville, Va., and her home was in Washington, D. C.

Miss Magruder was acknowledged to be one of the foremost of the writers given to American literature by the south. She was the youngest of the three daughters of Allan Bowie Magruder, a prominent Virginia lawyer, and early showed a talent for story building. From her childhood she wrote serials, sketches and other short articles for the current magazines and papers. Her first book was published anonymously by the Scribner's in 1885. Its title was "Aerona the Chasin'." Its feature being a study of social conditions following the Civil war. It called forth much criticism, both favorable and adverse, from readers in the north and south. Since that time her work has been very prolific, some of the best known of her books being "The Princess Sonia," "The Violet," "Dead Seives," "Stranah" and "The Thousandth Woman," which was issued in 1905. Miss Magruder also scored several successes as a writer of stories for children, her "Child Sketches from George Elliot," "The Child Army" and "Labor of Love" being distinguished for their purity and naturalness of tone.

MRS. EDDY IS MENTALLY SOUND.

So Says Arthur Brisbane After Interview with Christian Science Head.

Boston, June 11.—The most recent light thrown upon the mental condition of Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy, upon which question a hearing is to be held tomorrow in the superior court at Concord, N. H., comes from an interview had with her yesterday by Arthur Brisbane, the newspaper and magazine writer.

Mr. Brisbane outlined his observations while with Mrs. Eddy as follows: "I visited Mrs. Eddy as the representative of the Cosmopolitan Magazine. I had a long and extremely interesting talk with her. The conditions at Mrs. Eddy's home at Concord are, briefly, as follows:

"Those about her are devoted to her. She is in absolute control of her own movements and mistress of her entire household. That is evident.

"Mrs. Eddy is thoroughly competent to take care of herself and of her business. The suggestion that she should be deprived of personal liberty, or of the property that she has earned, is preposterous and shameful."

New Orleans, June 11.—Six thousand dollars was demanded as ransom today for 8-year-old Walter Lamana, son of a well-to-do Italian undertaker. The boy disappeared two days ago, and the police have vainly searched for him. Today's demand for ransom money, in a letter signed "Black Hand," was the first clue.

HINDRANCE TO RAILROADS IN RATE FIXING POWER.

New York, June 11.—No more railroads will be built in the undeveloped parts of the United States except at the risk of and with the capital of existing lines, if the government's plan to fix rates based upon the railroad's valuation is carried out, is the opinion of Stuyvesant Fish, former president of the Illinois Central railroad.

Fish expressed his opinion in the course of an address before the graduating class in applied science at the Columbia University today. He characterized the action of congress in giving the Interstate commerce commission the power of fixing rates as a distinct reversion to medieval practice which will hinder and delay, if it does not in some places absolutely prevent development of the west and south through the establishment of new jobbing.

JAP GOVERNMENT.

Is Not Taking Any Part in Prison Agitation.

Washington, June 11.—Continuing the policy of not adding in way of comment or facts to the discussion of the Japanese-American incidents, Japanese Ambassador Aoki today, as usual, denied himself to newspaper men, and proclaimed against any statement emanating from the embassy, relative to the reported development of strength in the opposition party in Japan. Aoki is understood to take the view that there are no matters of difference between us and Japan which are not capable of adjustment if allowed to be considered on their merits.

"When I was coming home last night," said Miss Seecry, "I saw a man skulking along in the shadow. Oh, how I ran!" "Au" couldn't you catch him?" inquired her little brother, innocently.—Cleveland Leader.

Miss Lancaster in Vaudeville.
 Clippings from New York papers give the most favorable comments of the work of Miss Lillian Lancaster, known here in her home city as Mrs. James Young, in vaudeville. Miss Lancaster is playing the lead in a playlet, "A Loyal Deception," written by Wilson Mizner, which has been given a tryout at Ashbury park, and proved a huge success. At present it is being presented in New York. The Morning Telegram says: "This is Miss Lancaster's initial effort in vaudeville, but the large audience of summer cottagers and others, who were out in force and who so unstintingly applauded her portrayal of the trustful but afflicted wife, was encouragement so convincing that she expressed a determination at the close of the act to continue it."

SCHMITZ SCORES POINT IN EXTORTION CASES

San Francisco, June 13.—An important ruling by Judge Dunne in favor of the defense early this afternoon brought to a sudden and premature close the case of the state against Mayor Schmitz for extortion. The defense, taken by surprise was not ready to begin the introduction of evidence so Attorney Campbell made his opening address to the jury in behalf of the mayor and adjournment was ordered until tomorrow. The ruling by Judge Dunne that resulted in cutting short the state's case was the sustaining of an objection to the introduction of a mass of testimony, tending to show that the mayor had made a common practice of playing fast and loose with restaurant and saloon licenses and had ordered a number of them held up out of ulterior motives.

A man and a house need the same thing in spring—a good cleaning out.

Mr. A. W. Hull, desired result. It will positively do these three things—clean out the stomach and bowels tone up the system generally, and bring back the snap to body and mind that now seem dull and worn out. Try it and see if you won't be as pleased as Mr. Hull, whose letter I quote below:

"I suffered a general breaking down of the system. Had no appetite, poor digestion and was constipated. I lost ambition and took no interest in anything. Nothing I could do seemed to give me relief until upon a friend's advice I began to use Cooper's New Discovery. It helped me from the start. Now I am able to do as much work as the next one and I enjoy it. I have a hearty appetite and am stronger and better every way. Your New Discovery medicine is certainly the best tonic and system builder I have ever known." A. W. Hull, 142 Porter St., Detroit, Mich.

DIRTY ALLEYS

WILL BE INSPECTED BY HEALTH DEPARTMENT OF CITY.

Board of Health Hereafter Will Employ Attorneys if Need Be to Prosecute.

As exclusively announced in The Sun, the board of health will employ counsel at its own expense to prosecute property owners and residents guilty of maintaining nuisances. This was decided last night at a meeting at the city hall. Members do not approve of the method of dismissing warrants when property owners show they have cleaned up premises, after being cited and presented before court. They believe those guilty should be fined as an example to others.

A grant deal of complaint was heard from residents in the Tyler section of the H. Well & Sons distillery. Many cattle are kept in the lot where refuse from the distillery is thrown, and the odor is said to be foul and sickening.

A number of alleys were reported in bad shape, and Health Officer W. T. Graves instructed to look after them and the distillery.

TEARS OF TYPHOON'S DAMAGE.

Describes Destruction of an Island in Caroline Group.

San Francisco, Cal., June 11.—The first details of the devastation wrought by a typhoon and tidal wave in the Caroline Islands in the latter part of March were brought here today by the Rev. G. H. Jagnow, a missionary, who arrived on the steamer Coptic.

A few days before Easter Sunday a typhoon swooped down upon the Oclat group and completely wrecked them. A tidal wave that followed not only swept over the land but practically buried it under a blanket of sand. This wave rendered 1,500 people homeless and 250 men, women, and children were drowned on one island alone. Twenty-five persons were lost on another of the small islands.

The German authorities sent a steamer with supplies, and with these the natives expect to subsist until they can produce their crops.

Commendable Example.

The popular after-dinner speaker rose to respond to a toast, says the Chicago Tribune.

"Gentlemen," he said, "the unexpectedly flattering manner in which your toastmaster has introduced me this evening reminds me of a story which strikes me as being appropriate to the occasion. By the way, how many of you have heard the story of the Pennsylvania farmer and the young wolf he bought for a 'coon dog'? Will those who are familiar with it from having listened to it half a dozen times or more please raise their hands?"

An overwhelming majority of his audience raised their hands.

"Thanks, gentlemen," he said. "I shall not inflict it upon you."

With their rapturous applause still ringing in his ears he sat down. He had made the hit of the evening.

It's the after effect of experience that counts.

CAPT. FARLEY HAS NO OPPOSITION

Only One Mentioned for Treasurer in Louisville

Candidates Lined Up for Republican State Convention, Wednesday, June 19.

WILLSON HAS CLEAR TRACK.

Louisville, Ky., June 11.—Additional candidates for the various nominations within the gift of the Republican state convention which meets in Louisville Wednesday, June 19, are being mentioned as the convention date draws nearer. While there is no remarkable increase as yet in the number of candidates, more names have been mentioned within the last two days than at any previous time, and it is regarded as certain that others who have not yet allowed any use of their names will be before the convention.

A. E. Willson's candidacy is growing in strength constantly, and it is now believed that a large proportion of the delegates will come to the convention instructed for Mr. Willson as first choice of their respective districts.

Among the newest candidates who seek the nomination for the governorship is J. H. Hurst, of the Tenth district. Not much is known of Mr. Hurst in Louisville aside from the fact that he is eighty-two years old and has held a high place in the councils of his party in that neighborhood for years. The remaining candidates, for the gubernatorial nomination, aside from Mr. Willson, who have already been mentioned are Judge W. H. Holt, of Oldham county; A. T. Franks, of Owensboro, and John W. Lewis, of Washington. Mr. Lewis has stated that he will not allow his name to go before the convention, but a number of his friends are urging it very strongly and there is a possibility that it may be used.

Senator W. H. Cox, of Maysville, continues as the only candidate thus far announced for the lieutenant governorship. C. M. Bartlett, of Hartford, is again being mentioned as a strong contestant for the auditorship nomination, in which Allen T. Dean, of Owensboro; W. C. Davis, of Middleborough; the present county attorney of Boyle county, and Robert Burnham, of Richmond, in the Eighth district, are already entered.

Gen. Dan Lindsay, of Frankfort, known as one of the ablest lawyers in the state, who gained his military title as a distinguished officer in the Union army during the civil war, will be Dr. Ben Bruner's only opponent for the nomination of secretary of state. Dr. Bruner is at present chief deputy United States marshal for the western district of Kentucky, late member of the state legislature, and who earned the distinction in that race of having been the only man who polled a large vote in his district than was cast for President Theodore Roosevelt.

For the attorney generalship, Judge James J. Breathitt, of Hopkinsville, is at present the only likely candidate. A number of friends of Judge W. H. Holt, who is also in the race for the governorship, are urging his candidacy for this office, but this is without Judge Holt's authority, and it is doubtful if he would accept the nomination if it were offered him.

Edward Farley, of Paducah, in the First district, has no present opposition for the treasurer's nomination. Another candidate for the clerkship of the court of appeals has come forward in the person of Napier Adams, of the Eleventh district, to oppose the candidacy of C. M. Hanson, of

JUDGE DUNN ELECTED.

Coles County Man Wins Illinois Judicial Election.

Springfield, Ill., June 11.—Incomplete returns from the sixteen counties of the Third supreme judicial district, show that Judge Frank Dunn, of Coles county, was today elected to the supreme bench to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late Judge Jacob Wilkin, of Danville, Ill. Judge James A. Creighton, of Springfield, the Democratic nominee, made a formidable showing. This county, Saagamon, was carried by Creighton by 3,000 majority. This immense majority was overcome by the heavy Republican majorities rolled up in the strongly Republican counties of the district. Creighton carried the city of Springfield by a majority of 1,300. The Iroquois county vote was: Dunn, 2,030; Creighton, 935.

The KING of DIAMONDS.

By Louis Tracy,

Author of "Wings of the Morning," "The Pillar of Light," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1904, BY EDWARD J. CLODE.

Meanwhile he waited his breakfast. He gathered thirty fair sized, white pebbles and a few jagged lumps of the ironlike material. These he wrapped in a piece of newspaper, screwed up the small package tightly and placed it in his trousers' pocket. Thinking deeply about the awesome incidents of the previous night, he dozed his coat and lay in the chair. Never before had this door been locked and the key in his pocket before he missed them. It was in his mind to turn back. In another second he would have obeyed the impulse had not a mighty gust of wind swept through the yard and carried his tattered cap into the passage. That settled it. Philip ran after his headgear and so was blown into a strange sea of events.

"They are quite safe there," he thought. "In any case, it will be best not to carry them about in future. They get so frayed, and some day I may want them."

Emerging from the haven of the Moss, he found the untidy life of the Mills End road eddying in restless confusion through a gate. The gaunt, high walls surrounding his secluded dwelling had sheltered him from the blustering March wind that was now drying the streets and creating much ill humor in the hearts of curriers, stall owners and girls with large hats and full skirts. In a word, everything that could be flapped or shaken or rudely swept anywhere out of its rightful place was dealt with accordingly. In one instance a heavy tarpaulin was lifted clean off a wagon and neatly lodged over the heads of the driver and horses of a passing omnibus. They were not extricated from its close embrace without some difficulty and a great quantity of severe yet cogent remarks by the wagoner and the driver, assisted by the bus conductor and various passengers.

Philip laughed heartily for the first time since his mother's death. He waited until the driver and the wagoner had exchanged their farewell comments; then he made off briskly toward an establishment where three halfpence would purchase a cup of coffee and a bun.

In ten minutes he felt much refreshed, and his busy mind reverted to the mysterious package he carried. Thinking it best to seek the counsel of an older head, he went to O'Brien's shop. The old man was taking down the shutters and found the task none too easy. Without a word Philip helped him, and soon the pensioner was wiping his spectacles in the shelter of the shop.

"I dunno what the weather is coming to at all at all," he grumbled. "Last night was like the takin' in the Redan an' this mornin' reminds me in crossin' the bay o' Biscay."

"It certainly was a fearful thunderstorm," said Philip.

"Felix, boy, that's a true word. It was just like old times in the hills in Inghin, where the devil himself holds court some nights. But what's the matter? Didn't you get that job?"

Philip laughed again. "I am not sure yet," he replied. "I really came in to ask you what this is."

With his hand in his pocket, he had untied the paper and taken out a white pebble, which he now handed to O'Brien.

"The old man took it, snelt it and adjusted his glasses for a critical examination."

"No, I think not."

"An' it ain't glass."

"Probably not."

"Where did yer get it?"

"I found it lying on the pavement."

O'Brien scratched his head. "Tis a queer looking object, myhow. What good is it?"

"I cannot tell you. I thought that possibly it might have some value."

"What! A scrap of white stone like that. Arrah, what's come over yer?"

"There is no harm in asking, is there? Some one should be able to tell me what it is made of."

Philip from his small store of physical geography knew that meteors were articles of sufficient rarity to attract attention, and he was tenacious withal.

"I suppose that a jeweler would be the best man to judge. He must understand about stones," he went on.

"Maybe. But I don't see what's the use. 'Tis a sheer waste of time. But if y're set on findin' out go to a big man. These German Jews round about here are omidhans. They don't know a watch from a clock, an' if they did they'd cheat ye."

"I never thought of that, yet I ought to know by this time. Thank you. I will go into the city."

He took the pebble, which he placed in his waistcoat pocket. Walking briskly, he traversed some part of the sorrowful journey of barely twelve hours earlier. What had happened to change his mood he did not know and scarcely troubled to inquire. Last night he hurried through these streets in a frenzied quest for death. Now he strode along full of hope, joyous in the confidence of life and youth. His one dominant thought was that his mother had protected him, had snatched him from the dark gate of eternity. Oddly enough, he laid far more stress on his escape from the meteor than on the accident that prevented his contemplated suicide. This latter idea had vanished with the madness that induced

it. Philip was sane again, morally and mentally. He was keenly anxious to justify his mother's trust in him. The blustering wind, auoying to most wayfarers, only aroused in him a spirit of resistance, of fortitude. He breast-ed it so manfully that when at last he paused at the door of a great jewelry establishment in Ludgate Hill his face was flushed and his manner eager and animated.

He opened the door, but was rudely brought back to a sense of his surroundings by the suspicious question of a shopwalker.

"Now, boy, what do you want here?"

The unconscious stress in the man's words was certainly borne out by the contrast between Philip, a social pariah in attire, and the wealth of gold and precious stones set off from him by panes of thick glass and from bars. What, indeed, did this outcast want there?

Confused by the sudden demand and no less by its complete obviousness, Philip flushed and stammered:

"I—er—only wished to obtain some information, sir," he answered.

Like all others, the shopman was amazed by the difference between the boy's manners and his appearance.

"Information?" he repeated in his surprise. "What information can we give you?"

The wealth of the firm oppressed this man. He could only speak in accents of adulation where the shop was concerned.

Philip produced his white pebble.

"What is this?" he said.

The directness of the query again took his hearer aback. Without a word, he bent and examined the stone. Professional instinct mastered all other considerations.

"You must apply to that department," he majestically waved his hand toward a side counter. Philip obeyed silently and approached a small, elderly personage, a man with clever, kindly eyes, who was submitting to microscopic examination a number of tiny stones spread out on a channel leather folding case. He quietly removed the case when his glance rested on the boy.

"Well?" he said blankly, wondering why on earth the skilled shopwalker had sent such a disreputable man to him. Philip was now quite collected in his wits. He held out the pebble, with a more detailed statement.

"I found this," he said. "I thought that it might be valuable, and a friend advised me to bring it here. Will you kindly tell me what it is?"

The man behind the counter stared at him for a moment, but he reached over for the stone. Without a word he placed it beneath the microscope and gave it a very brief examination. Then he pressed it against his cheek.

"Where did you get it?" he asked.

"I found it where it had fallen on the pavement."

"Are you sure?"

"Quite sure."

"Strange!" was the muttered comment, and Philip began to understand that his meteor possessed attributes hitherto unsuspected.

"But what is it?" he inquired after a pause.

"A meteoric diamond."

"A meteoric diamond?"

"Yes."

"Is it worth much?"

"A great deal. Probably some hundreds of pounds."

Philip felt his face growing pale. That dirty-white, small stone worth hundreds of pounds! Yet in his pocket he had twenty-nine other specimens, many of them much larger than the one chosen haphazard for inspection.

and in the back yard of his tenement. In heaps of them, scattered about the pavement like hailstones after a shower, while the meteor itself was a compact mass of them. He became somewhat faint and lanced against the glass case that surmounted the counter.

"Is that really true?" was all that he could say.

The expert valuer of diamonds smiled. His first impulse was to send for the police, but he knew that meteoric diamonds did fall to earth occasionally, and he believed the boy's story. Moreover, the thing was such a rarity and of such value that the holder must be fully able to account for its possession before he could dispose of it. So his tone was not unkindly as he replied:

"It is quite true, but if you want to ascertain its exact value you should go to a Hatton Garden jeweler, and he, most probably, would make you a fair offer. It has to be cut and polished, you know, before it becomes salable, and I must warn you that most right inquiry will be made as to how it came into your hands."

"It fell from heaven!" was the wholly unhesitating answer, for Philip was shaken and hardly master of his faculties.

"Yes, yes, I know. Personally, I believe you or your would be in custody at this moment. Take it to Messrs. Isaacson & Co., Hatton Garden. Sir, I sent you—Mr. Wilson is my name—and make your best terms with Mr. Isaacson. He will treat you quite fairly. But, again, be sure and tell the truth, as he will investigate your story fully before he is satisfied as to its necessity."

Philip, walking through dreamland, quitted the shop. He mingled with the jostling crowd and drifted into Partridge road.

"A diamond—worth hundreds of pounds!" he repeated mechanically. "Then what is the whole meteor worth, and what am I worth?"

TO PAY SALARIES ON SCHOOL BOARD

Trustees Would Have School Charter Amended

Four Successful Colored Teachers
Dropped and New Ones Elected in Places.

PAY SUP. LIEB HIS SALARY

Revision of the charter of second-class cities now being undertaken by City Solicitor James Campbell, Jr., and a committee, received an endorsement by the school board in an adjourned meeting last night when a committee to make recommendations for changes in the school charter, was appointed. This committee will report back to the board and will work in conjunction with the committee from the general council. It is composed of President Potter, and Trustees Beckenbach and Byrd. Whoever represents the city in the conference of second-class cities will represent the schools also.

Some of the desired changes as briefly outlined by Trustee Beckenbach in his motion, will be pay for the members of the board, probably at the same rate as councilmen and aldermen; longer term to avoid the frequent changes in the complexion of the board with fewer to elect at each election. Other recommendations that will remedy those shortcomings that investigation will show, will be made. The pay for the members is recommended to prevent resignations of members from the board and the longer terms are desired to give one set of trustees time to work out their ideas before they are broken into by partisan elections.

Paducah will have the honor of starting the move toward revision of the school charter, just as it has had the honor of starting the movement for a revision of the city government charter.

President List Resigns.
President Anthony List read his resignation to the board last night and it was accepted with regret. He said:

"I beg you to accept my resignation as a member of the board of education tonight. I am sincere when I tell you I am sorry to leave you. In justice to my companions and myself, I hereby state that only business affairs prompted me to leave my post. I have shared praise and criticism with you, and you have honored me to an extent which I will always remember gratefully. I take this token of confidence with me and assure you of my best wishes, that your sense of duty and sound judgment may help you to continue the great work in the interest of the schools, children and teachers, to your credit."

Trustee Kelley nominated Frank Boone to succeed President List on the board and he was elected without opposition. President List's successor in the chair cannot be elected until the next regular meeting. Vice-President Potter becoming the president of the board until that time.

Colored Teachers.

Fifteen colored teachers were elected for next year as follows: Laura Illinois, Rosa Mae, Georgia Jones, Georgia Burks, Rena Machen, Mattie Anderson, Cattie Emery, Zeke Grundy, Ike Nuehols, Sallie Caruthers, Nettie McClain, Maggie Pearson, Lucy Giger, Adelle Howell and Lula Davis, substitute. Four of the old teachers, Maggie Merchant, Minnie Hall, Ida Baker and Lizzie Hawkins. Four among the best colored teachers in the public schools, some of them being graduates of training schools, and Ulysses Kevill did not apply for re-election.

"On the grounds of moral protection and encouragement of our undermined women," a petition was presented by 81 colored signers, asking the board not to elect married women to positions in the colored schools. They think that the married women can be supported by their husbands and that the unmarried women, who have qualified themselves for the work, should be encouraged by election. Trustee Potter who read the petition took this view of the petition but on a vote, the board accepted the report of the committee electing four married women to the positions. Examination of all teachers will be held in August.

The salaries of the colored teachers were changed so that teachers with two years or more experience will receive $25 a month.

Trustee Salary Point.
Trustee Beckenbach made a motion which was adopted, to allow Superintendent Lieb his salary in advance for August and give him the month as a vacation. Mr. Carnegie's term will begin August 1, and the services of both will not be needed. Superintendent Lieb's contract runs until September 1.

A committee to inspect the heating apparatus and plumbing in the Long-fellow building with the view of having them from the Odd Fellows, was appointed. If purchased, they will be used in the new buildings.

Trustee Brame has been carrying his resignation around in his pocket, but several of the trust's personal him to defer his action until the July meeting. He will recommend Mr. Samuel Speyer, a carpenter of 151 Parley place, as his successor. The contract with Lockwood and Tuttle for the Jackson street building, was signed, as was the one with George Wellford for the Rowlandtown building.

Waterloo, Iowa, June 11.—Though his clothing was locked up, the windows of his home securely nailed, and the door knobs removed, Theodore Horstman, a young man delirious from malignant diphtheria, broke quarantine early today and led the officers a chase of two miles, his only attire being a bed quilt trailing behind him. While his nurse slept, Horstman cut a tin can into strips and with them unlocked a door. He has been delirious since first stricken, and it was thought sufficient precaution had been taken to prevent his escape. Tonight he is critically ill as a result of his exposure and exertion.

YOUNG WOMAN LOST DOWRY.

Mattituck Domestic Acquired It by Improper Methods, Which Were Almost Successful.

Mattituck, L. I., June 11.—The novel scheme inaugurated by a young Polish girl in this place to get a dowry and a lot of wedding gifts came near getting her into serious trouble and a postponement of the wedding as well. But for the kind heartedness of her mistress the young woman would have been hauled to court and punished.

The young woman had not been long in this country; neither had the man she desired to wed. They had no funds, but were greatly in love with each other. They carefully discussed the perplexing situation for a little time, but no method was devised wherewith to obtain the necessary funds. The man in the case had about decided that he must wait several months before claiming his bride.

The young woman, however, would not give up so easily. Finally she told her mistress that a woman in another village had offered her more wages. As the Mattituck woman could not meet this wage she reluctantly consented to let her maid go. About the same time her lover, too, left his job. When it was time for the girl to leave her place she had her trunk moved downstairs. It was apparently of great weight. When it came to the house it was light. The result was the girl was forced to open her trunk. She protested vehemently, but finally, amid tears and protestations, the trunk was opened. Behold, there was china, cut glass, silverware of all kinds, table linen, sheets and pillows, clothing, etc., and a few dozen fresh laid eggs (for the wedding breakfast, probably) nicely packed away in the trunk.

As a result the wedding dowry had to be dispensed with then and there, but after learning of the affair the young man decided that so quick witted a woman as this should not be let go, and it is understood here that the couple shortly after sought a priest and were wedded.

Our idea of a talented woman is one who has a lot of common sense.

Gets Hooker Prize.

New Haven, Conn., June 11.—Darwin A. Leavitt, of Beloit, Wis., has been awarded the Hooker fellowship by the Yale divinity school. The prize amounts to $1,200 and is awarded every two years and the money is to be used for further study of theology in America, Europe and Palestine. Leavitt was graduated from Beloit college in 1904.

Gov. Hughes' reason for vetoing the bill giving equal pay to women school teachers was that it declares a general principle, which, if adopted, should be of general application to all teachers in the state and throughout the civil service of the state.

A Continued Conversation.

Congressman George W. Smith, who has been representing the southernmost district of Illinois in congress over since John R. Thomas got tired of the job, 20 years ago, was campaigning around Murphysboro one time in a buggy, says Judge. With him was a driver. They came to a bridge over the Big Muddy river. The sight of water naturally suggested fish. For lack of anything better to say Congressman Smith said to the driver:

"Don you like fish?"

"Yes," was the reply.

Nothing more was necessary and nothing more was said. However, when the next campaign came around Congressman Smith went over the same territory, at the same time of the year, with the same driver. Again they crossed the Big Muddy and again the sight of water suggested fish.

"How?" asked Congressman Smith.

"Fried," said the driver.

"Of course," said the major, when informed that there was no hope for him, "I hate to leave my friends here, but there are lots of 'em where I'm going."

"In heaven?" asked the preacher.
